God rewards us when we use the talents he gives us for the sake of the Kingdom of Heaven and punishes us when we don’t use them.

The first servant invested the five bags of money and made five more bags. The second servant also worked with the money and made two more bags. But the third servant was lazy. He just buried the one bag of silver. He didn’t even bother to put it in the bank!