Palm Sunday for Kids (Luke 19:28-40) Sunday School Lesson

Written by Kristen Schmidt for Ministry-To-Children.com

As we prepare for Holy Week and receive palm branches for church services, it's easy to go through the motions and casually discuss the donkey and the palm parade, without thoroughly contemplating what it all means. This lesson reminds students of the significance behind the Triumphal Entry, and celebrates Christ's work in our lives.

Lesson focus: Jesus came to save in unexpected ways; we should remember this and be eager to share the good news with others.

Passage: Luke 19:28-40

Target Audience: Kindergarten-6th Grade (adaptable older or younger)

Materials Needed: Green construction paper (various shades); paper towel rolls; musical instruments

Lesson Opening: Donkey relay and musical parade: have students participate in a two part game to introduce the story. Have two teams of kids form lines. Across the room, set out a variety of simple instruments (tambourines, party horns, drums, etc.). Instruct students to race across the room, going on all four like "donkeys" and bringing back instruments. After all instruments have been gathered, march around the room parade style, playing the music and shouting "hosanna!" Explain that today we will talk about a special kind of parade that happened in the Bible, and what happened leading up to Easter.

Bible Lesson:

This is a great story to act out with kids, either using puppets or live "skit" type action. If you are really brave or have a strong and sturdy volunteer with you, you may even act the part of the donkey and have students ride around the room!

Explain at intervals the important elements of the story. Describe the setting by telling kids that Jesus was getting ready to come into Jerusalem. He knew that He was nearing the end of His life, but the disciples and people did not realize this. He instructed two disciples to secure His mode of transportation:

²⁸ And when he had said these things, he went on ahead, going up to Jerusalem. ²⁹ When he drew near to Bethphage and Bethany, at the mount that is called Olivet, he sent two of the disciples, ³⁰ saying, "Go into the village in front of you, where on entering you will find a colt tied, on which no one has ever yet sat. Untie it and bring it here. ³¹ If anyone asks you, 'Why are you untying it?' you shall say this: 'The Lord has need of it.'" ³² So those who were sent went away and found it just as he had told them. ³³ And as they were untying the colt, its owners said to them, "Why are

A donkey? So what? There are a couple of significant things about this ride. For one thing, riding a donkey was a sign of peace. Jesus was not riding in with a sword and a great white horse. He was demonstrating humility and true servanthood. Also, though, He was fulfilling a prophecy. Long before Jesus was born, a prophet had given a sign to look for to recognize the coming savior King.

Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion!
Shout aloud, O daughter of Jerusalem!
Behold, your king is coming to you;
righteous and having salvation is he,
humble and mounted on a donkey,
on a colt, the foal of a donkey. -Zechariah 9:9

As Jesus approached the city, the people gathered and crowded around. They spread out coats on the ground, demonstrating their respect for Him as king.

³⁶ And as he rode along, they spread their cloaks on the road. ³⁷ As he was drawing near—already on the way down the Mount of Olives—the whole multitude of his disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice for all the mighty works that they had seen, ³⁸ saying, "Blessed is the King who comes in the name of the Lord! Peace in heaven and glory in the highest!" ³⁹ And some of the Pharisees in the crowd said to him, "Teacher, rebuke your disciples." ⁴⁰ He answered, "I tell you, if these were silent, the very stones would cry out." -Luke 19:36-40

So what was happening here? The people gathered and cheered for Jesus. Some versions of the story use the word "Hosanna" which means "save us." The people wanted someone who would save them from the cruel Roman oppression. They hoped Jesus would deliver them. Of course, He would save them from sin, but not quite how they expected...do we ever do this? We might hope God answers our prayers a certain way, but His methods are sometimes a little different. The grouchy temple leaders tried to get the people quiet. Look at what Jesus says, though. If they didn't cry His praises, the rocks would! Well, we can't let the rocks take our place, can we? We know and celebrate that Jesus came to save us and give new life. As we celebrate Holy Week, why don't we think about some ways we can praise Him and tell others about Him?

Craft: "Palm palm" branches: have students trace a hand (assist if necessary) on green paper. Stack varying shades of green and cut out the hands. Arrange the "palms" in layers and glue to a paper towel roll or long stick to make a branch.

Palm frond fan: decorate a large green sheet of paper. Fold accordion-style to make a fan in the shape of a palm branch.

Musical fun: in honor of the "parade" in the story, create musical instruments to celebrate, using paper plates or cups, shells or beads, and crepe paper streamers to decorate.

Close with prayer and thanks to God for sending Jesus to save us. Ask for His peace when our expectations are not always met, and for joy in proclaiming the work of Christ.

Here is a simple skit that presents Jesus' Triumphal Entry into Jerusalem. This would be wonderful to have the children in your class act out on Palm Sunday so they know the story of what happened on on the Palm Sunday. This can be done as simply as having the children read the script while acting or as elaborately with costumes and memorized lines.

Triumphal Entry: Luke 19:28-38

Characters: Narrator, Jesus, Owner, Disciples (at least 2), the rest of the class can be the crowds

Props: donkey (picture or cut out) and coats or cloth to put on donkey

(Jesus and disciples walk to the front of the room)

Narrator: He was going on ahead, going up to Jerusalem. When He approached Bethphage and Bethany, near the mount that is called Olivet, He sent two of the disciples, saying, Jesus: (pointing to where the donkey is) Go into the village ahead of you; there, as you enter, you will find a colt tied on which no one yet has ever sat; untie it and bring it here. If anyone asks you, 'Why are you untying it?' you shall say, 'The Lord has need of it.'"

Narrator: So those who were sent went away and found it just as He had told them. As they were untying the colt, its owners said to them,

Owner: Why are you untying the colt?

Disciple: The Lord has need of it.

(owner nods head in agreement)

Narrator: They brought it to Jesus, and they threw their coats on the colt and put Jesus on it. As He was going, they were spreading their coats on the road.

(Jesus walks around with the donkey while crowd is praising Him)

Narrator: As soon as He was approaching, near the descent of the Mount of Olives, the whole crowd of the disciples began to praise God joyfully with a loud voice for all the miracles which they had seen, shouting:

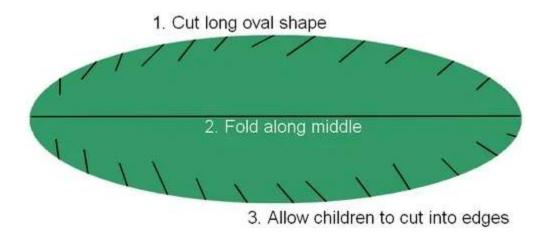

Crowd: Blessed is the King who comes in the name of the Lord; Peace in heaven and glory in the highest!

Paper Leaf Craft for Palm Sunday

Easter is more than a holiday—it is the reason for the hope of Christians. Jesus' death and resurrection is terrible and glorious to those that love him. For kids, Easter is full of conflicting images. Chocolate bunnies, Easter eggs and the cross get jumbled up in the Christian child's spirit. Teach your holiday lesson with clarity by providing crafts to reinforce this important lesson.

Palm Sunday Leaf Craft

The Easter story is panoramic and includes many people and special places. Sometimes we forget to include Jesus' entrance into the city on a donkey. The children sang, "Hosanna!" and greeted him with palm leaves. This palm leaf craft is an excellent way to reintroduce children to the kingship of Jesus.

Supplies: Large sheets of green construction paper. Child-safe scissors.

Directions: Before class cut out as many large leaf shapes as you need. Buy the large size construction paper if needed. Make the leaves long and oval shaped. Fold the leaves in half to make the leaf look like a tropical palm. When children arrive, give them safety scissors. Kids use the scissors to cut the edges making the paper look like fronds. Give kids crayons to write "Hosanna" on the leaves.

Smaller children might find it fun to wave the palms at a volunteer pretending to be Jesus. Play the song, "Hosanna" and allow kids to worship by waving their crafts in the area.
